

Welcome to the Town of Simsbury website. Our goal is to provide you with easy access to up-to-date information about our town and town services.

Located just outside of Hartford in the Farmington Valley, Simsbury is an ideal location to raise a family or locate a business. An historic and charming town center hosts exciting places to dine, shop and enjoy musical events. For outdoor enthusiasts, Simsbury boasts one third of its land preserved as open space with river to ridge opportunities for hiking and river access.

Our community takes pride in Simsbury Public Schools, which are recognized as some of the best in the state with outstanding educational opportunities in engineering, biomedical sciences, arts, theater and music, and an extensive selection of extracurricular opportunities. Augmented by many private and independent schools, Simsbury offers excellence in education for all.

Our local economy is thriving due in part to a bipartisan commitment to fiscal discipline that has recently led to some of the most conservative budgets in our town's history. The town engages in communal discussions of planning issues and has adopted regulations allowing for expedited approvals of development that fits with Simsbury's vision.

With a dedicated and excellent town staff, the Town of Simsbury maintains 165 miles of roads, an outstanding Public Library and Senior Center, a beautiful Recreation Center with skating, golf and two pools, and a summer performing arts center. Simsbury is home to a nationally accredited Police Department committed to community outreach policing.

Our professional staff and elected government officials are committed to delivering town government that is effective, fair-minded, open and compassionate. We're interested in hearing about your concerns and what issues matter to you.

Don't hesitate to stop in or call to say hello. Our doors are open to you.
