OLD BUSINESS

Schools and Senior Outreach

Mr. Loewy updated Commission members on the current status of this new program. The group is considering having a pass available for seniors to attend school functions for free during the school year. A Social Studies teacher will be producing a video about the lives of individuals residing at Virginia Connelly. The video will be made available to the individuals families. The group is attempting to increase communication between the school system and seniors. It was suggested that a column titled "Happenings at School" be put in the Senior Communicator. The School and Senior Outreach committee has been invited to attend the October Aging and Disability Commission meeting.

Accessibility Issue at Henry James Memorial School

Mr. LaMontagne shared information regarding accessibility issues at Henry James Middle School, which arose during the town budget vote in May. He has made contact with Dr. Ullman, Superintendant of Schools to determine what can be done to make access into the school more acceptable. Mr. LaMontagne will now contact Sue Lemke, principal at Henry James Memorial School, where the accessibility issue appears to be most prevalent.

Financial Update

Mr. LaMontagne distributed the Commission's Budget Fund Reconciliation. As of September 14th the commission has $1,200.00 remaining. There is also $471.88 remaining in the Picnic in the Park fund, however we have yet to receive the food bill from Kane's.

NEW BUSINESS

2010-2011 Meeting Dates

Mr. LaMontagne stated that the Commission will be conducting their 2010-2011 meetings in the Youth Room at Eno Memorial Hall. A listing of the 2011 meeting dates will need to be sent in to the town clerk in December, but the commission traditionally meets the second Tuesday of the month with the exception of July, August and December.

Numbering of Property

The town recently sent out a reminder on their web site titled, "Numbering Your Home", to remind citizens to post highly visible numbers on their house and property. Mr. LaMontagne met with John Mimnaugh from the Simsbury Police Department to determine if the Aging and Disability Commission could provide assistance. One of the ways discussed was to put a flyer in an edition of the Senior Communicator. This was done in the Sept./Oct. issue. Another possibility would be to provide assistance to seniors and/or persons with disabilities with numbering their house. This could be accomplished with the assistance of a local Boy Scout troop.
