Joseph,

Relative to the Raising Cane's application my only concern is the corner at the Bed, Bath and Beyond store.

This is a very tight corner now and will be a larger issue with traffic generated by the new business. It need to be a less drastic a zig-zag for cars coming from or going to the West. This needs to become more of a smooth s-curve by using fewer parking spaces to the North of the building.

Let me know if this is not clear and needs more explanation.
